

Discussion Questions for INTO THE QUIET

*Questions contain spoilers***

1. Into the Quiet is a story of a neglected marriage that needs some serious TLC. How did the story strike you in terms of its realistic portrayal of a 23-year-marriage? How about their reconciliation?
2. What did you think of Mia's advice to Cupid about trying to fix Ruthie's marriage?
3. Were you able to put yourself into Ruthie's shoes? Was that feeling of temptation at all familiar? How did you feel about the way Ruthie responded to Cupid's near-kiss?
4. Pan's having a rough time balancing duty, friendship, and desire. Was he justified in his actions after Cupid went to Cheri's? How has Pan changed since Cupid's fall?
5. Do you agree with Hephaestus's intervention? How do you feel his strategy of trying to "break up Cupid and Pan" worked out for Heph? Any predictions about the love triangle on Mt. O?
6. Aphrodite learns (and admits) something about herself in book two. Does she have any redeeming qualities as a mother? What is your prediction for the future of her relationship with Q? Is there anything she might do to repair the damage? Do you think she will care to try?
7. At the very end of book two, we are told that Cupid's next Worthy is Pan. What are your thoughts on what is about to happen? Is Cupid Pan's Right Love match?
8. The Cupid's Fall series is a total of four books. What predictions do you have about how the series ends? Where would you like to see these characters at the end of their stories?
