

Henry's here to kick off summer!

Spice up your Memorial Day weekend with this saucy age-gap romance!

Only $0.99!

Remember Ruthie's "hot handyman" story from book 2? Here it is!

Thea Delaney is starting over after divorce - new home, new life. All is well until her bathtub falls through the dining room ceiling and she needs to hire a handyman. When Henry comes over to scout out the job, poor Thea can't help her silly crush on the hot, young handyman.

Henry Cooper is reeling from a bad breakup. He knows he needs to get back out there, but the only women he seems to attract are the handsy cougars who hire him to work in their homes.

When Henry goes to work for Thea, a curvy, middle-aged schoolteacher who loves to bake, he is charmed by her easy blush and intrigued by the juicy paperback on her nightstand. Attraction builds, but Thea is unable to trust her feelings. Can Henry help Thea overcome her insecurities and give their romance a chance before the project is finished?

If you've read "Into the Quiet," (Cupid's Fall #2), you may recognize "Fixer Upper" as the Henry the Handyman age-gap romance Ruthie secretly posted online. This novella is a standalone side story of the Cupid's Fall series - no prior knowledge of any of the other books is needed. No gods, no curses, just two humans trying to make it work.

Contemporary rom-com | Steamy age-gap romance | Second chance romance | Love after divorce

Pre-Order Fixer Upper for 99¢

Read their meet-cute:

The doorbell chimed. Thea's friends gave her a push, and she glided toward the front door.

What was his name again? Harry? Harvey?

"Henry! That's it!" she said as she opened the door.

The man's eyes opened wide—dazzling green flecked with amber. He was clearly fighting to hold in a smile. "I guess I don't need to introduce myself."

Thea's cheeks flared with embarrassment. She hadn't considered the possibility that on top of everything else, the handyman would be so handsome she'd be unable to think straight. And young. He couldn't be a day over thirty.

She gave her head a shake to rattle her brain back to the here and now. "Sorry," she mumbled, then remembered to offer her hand. "I'm Th—"

"Thea Delaney," he said, letting the smile free. Such an easy smile, a smile she could get lost in. "It's very nice to meet you."

His large hand gripped hers, coarse skin and calluses meeting Thea's soft palm. Her mesh bath sponge sprang to mind along with all those sensitive spots on her body it had grazed, the hint of pain to draw out her pleasure. Once the inappropriate thought had crossed her mind, she couldn't stop the fantasy of Henry's hands traveling down her belly, lower and lower.

Mortified, Thea snapped her hand away.

Henry's smile disappeared. "Sorry," he said, clasping his hands behind his back. "Occupational hazard."

"Oh gosh, no. I—" What could she say? I was just fantasizing about your hands all over my naked body.

Need to catch up with Cupid? ☐

Here's a snapshot of books 1-4:

Book 1: First Quiver:

For the immortal virgin of Mount Olympus, Love is a game he can only play from the sidelines. When Cupid takes that game too far, he is banished by the gods and ordered to fix love. Cupid plunges to Earth and lands in present-day Tarra, Indiana, where mortals go on about their daily routines, oblivious to the gods above. At first, his sexy Earth-bod and newfound freedom feel more like gifts than punishment, but the gods have something terrible in store for Cupid—a taste of his own medicine.

Caught between two worlds on a quest to fix Love, Cupid must survive the violent throes of his own coming of age and triumph over the powerful gods conspiring against him. Failure will not be tolerated; success will cost him everything.

Book 2: Into the Quiet:

Cupid's punishment is far from over, and the stakes are higher than ever. When Aphrodite inflames her son's heart for Ruthie – a sweet, vulnerable, married Worthy – Cupid's divine duty sets him on a crash course with the matrimonial laws of mortals. And his problems don't end there.

Seeking relief from his crushing loneliness, Cupid unwittingly damages his relationship with Pan, his best friend and lifeline. Meanwhile, high above the mortal realm, Aphrodite bargains away her own son's freedom in a brazen scheme to impress her fiery lover. Trapped in a web of half-truths and suspicion, Cupid must ignore his own shattered heart and unite Ruthie with her Right Love before it's too late for all of them.

Book 3: Quite the Pair:

It's Pan's turn for love, and everyone's in for a wild ride – especially his smitten best friend Cupid, who is duty-bound to find Pan's perfect match.

For 2,000 years, Cupid has believed his best friend dead, but when the gods banish Cupid from Mount Olympus, he discovers Pan alive and well in Tarra, Indiana. Joyfully reunited, the two revive the camaraderie of their youth, but tensions mount when Aphrodite sets Cupid's heart signal on Pan. Failure to fulfill his divine duty will doom Cupid to suffer yet another tragic love, but to succeed, he must risk losing everyone he holds dear.

Book 4: The Quest for Psyche:

The God of Love is a mess. Unmoored after losing Pan to his Right Love, Cupid begs Aphrodite to inflict the next torment on his heart. When she refuses, Cupid resorts to a very human approach to relieving his misery – therapy.

His online sessions seem to be working until Dr. Mariposa Rey mysteriously cuts him off. Sensing she needs his help, Cupid sets out on a cross-country adventure to Lake Tahoe, where his heart is inflamed one last time. What Cupid doesn't know is that this fourth Worthy will be his one and only chance at Right Love.

With the ancient myth of Cupid and Psyche as his guide, Cupid attempts the impossible – a happily eternally after with his reluctant soul mate.

LEARN MORE ABOUT THE SERIES

I'm so excited to share this Cupid's Fall standalone story with you. Whether you've read the whole series or none at all, you are sure to enjoy your time spent with sweet, sexy (frustrated) Henry and fiercely independent (but also highly skeptical) Thea.

Is your book club looking for a fun read this summer? Grab any of the books in the series and give me a shout. I'd love to join you!

Got suggestions? Questions? Complaints? Your replies go straight to my inbox. Until we meet again, stay safe!

Pre-order FIXER UPPER

Visit my website

Beth

Beth C Greenberg

4525 Dean Martin Drive, Las Vegas
NV 89103 United States

You received this email because you subscribed.

Unsubscribe